NEW BUSINESS

Concerns that VGS may not have buried the pipeline at the depths specified in the MOU. Per VGS' Non-substantial Change Request #6 there are 18 locations in a 1/2 miles stretch in New Haven where the pipeline is not in conformance. A request to Green Mt. Engineering responded to a letter from select board concerning depth, (see attached). VGS will be at the July 24 meeting. We hope to have more information at that time. Tom Murray is our new VGS contact person. S. Pilcher will request copies of any information that VGS has documenting the actual burial depths of the pipeline in Monkton.

A discussion took place about the use of gasoline at the town garage. Henry and Steve will follow up and report back at next meeting.

Regarding depth of cover records on VGS pipeline

Subject:RE: Vermont Gas depth of coverage

Hi Steve-

It was our understanding a gas engineer would be on-site and that VTGas would hire a gas pipeline inspector to confirm the pipeline was being constructed per the design, including bury depth. We understood our role was to make observations regarding the work being done in a safe manner, in conformance with the MOU signed between VT Gas and the Town of Monkton, and using methods that protected the property and environment of Monkton as much as possible. That being said, we were primarily focused on erosion control methods being followed and impacts to property and sensitive areas. In speaking with Jamie, the few times that actual trench construction was happening during our site visits, depth of bury was not observed to be an issue though it was not specifically documented.

Best,

Alan
